

Data Innovations Expands P.A.C.E.® Approved Training Classes

September 22, 2008 - SOUTH BURLINGTON, VT: Data Innovations has added “Basic Training for Instrument Manager” to its regularly scheduled, open registration, P.A.C.E.® approved courses. The course covers installation, configuration, basic operation and troubleshooting of Instrument Manager™. The course is part of Data Innovations’ ongoing commitment to customer education.

This training benefits anyone involved in implementation or operation of Instrument Manager. The three day instructor-led course is primarily targeted toward individuals designated to become subject matter experts functioning as the system administrator of the software. The course provides intensive instruction and interactive experience in software installation, creation of device configurations and connections, troubleshooting, customization of data presentation, and data backup and archiving.
